Unexpected Blessings

Recently, I had a meaningful encounter with an elderly gentleman who was simply walking by. He suddenly stopped and told me he felt the Lord prompting him to spend a few moments ministering to me (Heb 10:24-25). That does not usually happen to me. More often, I am the one reaching out to encourage others. But on that day, God chose to reach out and bless me.

In that brief moment, I was reminded of how deeply God loves us and how intimately He cares for our lives. It was a gentle reminder that our prayers are never unheard and that the Lord often answers them in unexpected ways.

Many of us spend our days looking for ways to bless others, which is a beautiful calling. Yet sometimes we move so quickly that we forget to pause long enough to receive the blessings God wants to give us—often through the kindness and obedience of another person.

My encouragement to you is simple: take a moment each day to pause before the Lord. Allow Him to refresh your heart, and remain open to the ways He may choose to bless you.
