

Search me, God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting. PS. 139:23-24

Many people that I have interacted with in the past few weeks have altered their plans because they do not know what issues they might have to overcome in the next few weeks, the biblical author James addresses this topic as well (see Jm. 4:13-15). The reality is we seldom know what's going to happen next; we make our plans, we place them into action, then the uncertainties of life derail our intentions. I'm not in control of what will happen today, next week, next month, or next year. Although I make plans and chart a course to achieve goals, if the Lord does not guide me, protect me, and direct my steps, my goals will never come to fruition.

During these times of uncertainty, let us take comfort in the one who holds our life in the palm of His hands. Let us rejoice in the fact that our Father in heaven is fully aware of our given scenario. Let us lean into our Master in heaven and prepare our hearts for greater deeds by spending time with Him, read material that will challenge you to grow in a particular area of life, and develop your heart to have a significant impact upon those in your sphere of influence. Let us commit ourselves to love, faith, and good deeds, knowing full well that our Master in heaven is in control.
