

When times are hard and circumstances change your daily routine, our natural response is to protect our self-interest. So, how can one go from relying on the natural to experiencing the supernatural? Acts of kindness shift our focus toward others and off oneself, Jesus reminds us about acts of charity in Matthew 25:40, "Whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me. "

As I reflect on the hand of the Lord in my life and ministry, I am in awe.

- I'm amazed seeing many people become followers of Christ.
- I'm stunned, witnessing the healing that unfolded before my own eyes.
- I'm filled with joy knowing the dramatic effect it had upon the villages in which I serve.

Simply put, I am blown away by the hand of God and marvel at his great deeds. I humbly embrace the fact that I am a blessed service.

You have played a crucial role in our ministry. Your faithful prayers, sacrificial giving, and acts of service have touched other's lives. You might not be able to physically go with me to serve in India. However, take comfort the Lord sees your sacrificial gift, and he will reward you Matt 6:3-5. The old saying remains true, " God is good all the time, and all the time God is good. "
